

PAVEL KIPARISOV

Ph.D. Candidate – System Resilience to Crises and Disasters

@ pavel@kiparisov.space kiparisov.space Vienna

EXPERIENCE

Teaching Assistant

Systems Laboratory, Central European University (CEU)

📅 January 2020 – nowadays 📍 Budapest / Vienna

- Development of study cases, technical manuals, and course materials; teaching in graduate classes on geospatial analysis, disaster management, and environmental systems modeling.

Economist - Technical Support and Programme Officer

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO)

📅 May 2016 – December 2019 📍 Budapest, Hungary

- Conducted field missions to Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, North Macedonia and the Republic of Moldova to study environment for doing agribusiness for farmers, and examine food losses and waste; co-authored relevant publications.
- Co-authored a book on the architecture of food security in Europe and Central Asia, carried out a research on climate change implications on trade and finished a comparative study of agricultural cooperatives.
- Drafted contracts and co-managed their implementation contributing to the whole project cycle.
- Contributed to development of concept notes for various projects worth 5 million USD.
- Contributed to disaster risk reduction projects in Central Asia; promoted wider use of satellite-based data analytics for farmers.

Research Assistant

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO)

📅 Nov 2015 – April 2016 📍 Budapest, Hungary

- Identified significant predictors of food insecurity in the Europe and Central Asia region.

Research Intern

Centre for European Policy Studies (CEPS)

📅 July 2015 – September 2015 📍 Brussels, Belgium

- Contributed to concept development of the European Smart Cities Information System, EU-funded project.
- Co-authored papers on 'carbon bubble' concept and its implications for finance and investment, and trade in agricultural products between the EU and Russia.

Teaching Assistant - Strategy

New Economic School (NES)

📅 May 2013 – July 2014 📍 Moscow, Russia

- Supported INSEAD professor in the MBA programme 'Sberbank 500', a joint initiative involving INSEAD, New Economic School and the corporate university of Sberbank.

EDUCATION

Ph.D. candidate in Environmental Sciences and Policy

Central European University, Vienna

📅 Sep 2019 – Jun 2022 (expected)

M.A. in Economic Policy in Global Markets

Central European University, Budapest

📅 Sep 2014 – Jun 2016

M.A. in Public Policy Analysis

Higher School of Economics, Moscow

📅 Sep 2012 – Jun 2014

LANGUAGES

HUMAN

Russian

English

German

Hungarian

Spanish

Latin

MACHINE

STATA

LaTeX

Python

R

Shell

SOFTWARE/OS

ArcGIS

QGIS

Stella

NetLogo

Photoshop

Premiere

Audition

GNU/Linux

GIMP

Audacity

HOBBIES

playing musical instruments

musical improvisation

martial arts

ancient and medieval philosophy

LIST OF PUBLICATIONS

Select publications

O'Connell, J., Kiparisov, P. (2018). Assessment of Agribusiness Environment in Kyrgyzstan. Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. Rome, Italy, 32 p.

O'Connell, J., Kiparisov, P. (2018). Kyrgyzstan Value Chain Gap Analysis. Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. Rome, Italy, 105 p.

O'Connell, J., Kiparisov, P. (2018). Moldova Value Chain Gap Analysis. Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. Rome, Italy, 65 p.

Kiparisov, P. (2016). The Development of Evaluation Criteria for Optimal Logistics Centres Placement in Russia. Studies of young researchers: sectoral and regional economics. Siberian Branch of Russian Academy of Sciences, pp 231-236.

Núñez Ferrer, J., Kiparisov, P. (2015). Can the Carbon Bubble Become a Serious Financial Bubble? Centre for European Policy Studies (CEPS).

Monographs

Sedik, D., Ulbricht, C., Dzhamankulov, N., Kiparisov, P. (2017). The Architecture of Food Safety Control Across Eurasia: The European Union and The Eurasian Economic Union, 108 p.

Kiparisov, P. (2013) National Consciousness and Identity in Western Europe in the XVI-XVIII centuries (Rus.) 103 p.

Theses

Urban System Resilience to Crises and Disasters (Work in Progress). Central European University, Austria.

The Selection of Logistics Centres Location: Case of Russia (2016). Central European University, Hungary.

The Role of Big Business in the Development of Sparsely Populated Regions of Russia (2014). National Research University - Higher School of Economics, Russia.

MENTIONS IN NEWS

Small producers and vulnerable populations could benefit from food hubs in Kyrgyzstan (FAO, 2018)

Food hubs can bring profits to small producers and vulnerable populations in Kyrgyzstan (Kyrgyztoday.org, 2018)

Moldovan smallholders should cooperate for better access to international markets, FAO suggests (FAO, 2018)

UN Food and Agriculture Organization report proposes solutions for Moldova's agricultural sector (Moldpres.md, 2018)

PUBLIC TALKS

2019: FAO experience in linking tourism to agriculture in Europe and Central Asia / International Tourism Forum Tajikistan-2019, Dushanbe.

2018: Value chain gap analysis: fish perspective / Workshop "WTO, market access and fish trade", FAO and Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Water Management of Serbia, Belgrade.

2017: Climate change implications on agricultural trade in Europe and Central Asia / FAO, Budapest.

2013: Global think tanks and intellectual response to global challenges / the Sixth All-Russian Congress of Political Science "Russia in the Global World: Institutions and Strategies of Political Interaction", Moscow.

TRAINING

2019: Training of trainers on EX-Ante Carbon balance Tool (EX-ACT), Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

2018: Geospatial Solutions for Water Management, United Nations Office for Outer Space Affairs and Central European University

2017: Sustainable Food Systems and Value Chains, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations

2013: Effective presentation skills, KPMG Business School

DELEGATE

2019: United Nations/Austria World Space Forum "Access to Space4All".

2018: United Nations / Germany High Level Forum on space innovations: The way forward after UNISPACE+50 and on Space2030.

2011: Biennial Global Student Conference: Education Without Borders, United Arab Emirates.